A LULL IN THE STORM

Atrocities in Russia Somewhat Below the Normal for the Past Few Days

(Special to the Bulletin)
St. Petersburg, July 25.—Advices received from every section of Russia indicate that, with the exception of the Baltic provinces of Courland, where armed revolutionaries are laying the countryside in waste, at Kestruva, north-east of Moscow, where peasants in Orlov province have risen against the officials, and in Odessa, where the revolutionaries are keeping up their campaign, the Russian empire is quieter than in many months.

St. Petersburg, July 25.—The revolutionaries burned Rempen castle, one of the finest and most ancient in Courland. Armed revolutionaries are again in possession of the surrounding country. Two columns of troops are advancing from the east and west.

Warsaw, July 25.—Col. Salamoff was stabbed to death today. The assassin escaped.

Reval, July 25.—A steamer loaded with Finnish workmen was not permitted to land here today. The vessel departed with the men singing "La Marseillaise."

IMMENSE CANAL SCHEME.

Winnipeg, July 26.—J. J. Hill is making preliminary arrangements for a system of canals by which he intends to carry grain from the Great Lakes to Liverpool by way of the Hudson's Bay. At first this idea seems stupendous but a glance at the map shows it is a comparatively easy proposition for such a man as J. J. Hill. From the Hainy River district the route of canals will run along the Winnipeg river, which will only need deepening. From the Winnipeg river to the city of Winnipeg the first actual canal will be built and from there to the Hudson's Bay the work will consist solely in dredging and improving the natural channels. During the next few days surveys will go out to determine what work is necessary.

RUSSELL SAGE DEAD

(Special to the Bulletin)
New York, July 25.—Russell Sage, the eminent financier, died at his summer home on Long Island this afternoon, after an illness of a couple of months. He has only been confined to his bed for two days.

MAPLE CREEK WANTS RAIN
Maple Creek, July 25.—The weather has been warm, the week's range being 76 in the shade. Crops need rain.

TWO SISTERS DROWNED

(Special to the Bulletin)
Elkhorn, Man., July 25.—Saturday while bathing in a pond, two daughters of Allen Turner, Mary and Laura, were drowned. The younger daughter went into the water and the elder in trying to save her, lost her own life.

BELIEVER THAW INSANE

(Special to the Bulletin)
New York, July 25.—Friends of Stanford White will co-operate with Thaw's mother in an effort to suppress the trial and incarcerate Thaw in an insane asylum. Should the prisoner persist in the retention of counsel and oppose the endeavors of his mother, Mrs. Thaw will apply for guardianship papers, declaring her son incapable. Mrs. White will leave for Europe in August. She will remain abroad until the Thaw case has been disposed of.

ANOTHER NIGHTMARE

(Special to the Bulletin)
London, July 25.—Major R. G. Turner, of Kaskam, writing to the Outlook, points out that enmity of race, language and interests between Canada and the United States is rendering annexation not improbable. He calls on England to wake up or the empire will slip from her grasp.

THE BRYDANT MURDER CASE

Jury Censures Advertisement of Medical Appliances

Toronto, July 26.—The coroner's jury in the Brydant murder case returned a verdict as follows: "We find that deceased, Mrs. Brydant, came to her death on July 20th, by the use of medicine and an instrument used by her for the purpose of procuring abortion, under instructions from Mrs. Miller, acting for the Dr. Devos Medicine Co. and aided by her husband. We deplore the publicity of certain advertisements in daily and other papers which lead to these results."

TEMPERATURE RECORD.

Winnipeg, July 26.—The weather has continued quite warm in all districts with the exception of rain and thunder storms in northern Alberta and showers around Winnipeg. The weather has been fine and dry.

ATHABASCA LANDING NEWS

Athabasca Landing, July 26.—Count Von Hammerstein and party arrived by stage yesterday on their way to McMurtry where they go to prospect for petroleum. Max G. Hamilton, of the H.B. Co. left by steamer today for Fort Simpson, where he will spend the winter.

The mail for the far north leaves today by H.B. transport. This will be the last mail leaving for the Mackenzie district by boat this season.

Colin Johnson's trading outfit leaves by boat today for Pelican Portage and Wabasca.

Latest reports from Peace River districts are that crops are extra good and a great many people have passed through here on their way to the Peace during the last two weeks to look over that country with a view to settling there.

The weather has been very warm here and there has been no rain for over two weeks. The prospect of an unusually good crop could not be better.

The steamer Midnight Sun is leaving for down river points today. This will likely be her last trip for the season.

POSTHUMOUS HONORS.

(Special to the Bulletin)
Toronto, July 24.—The body of Alex Muir, the author of the Maple Leaf was removed from the vault and buried in plot provided by the city yesterday.

WATER-SPOUT STRIKES TOWN

French Village Devastated by Tornado—Thirty People Missing

(Special to the Bulletin)
Lyons, France, July 24.—The village of Fumaux De Mauriens Madonna was devastated today by a gigantic waterspout. Twenty-two houses were swept away and tons of mud and refuse cover the railway tracks, stopping all traffic. The death list will be large. Thus far thirty people are reported missing. The property damage is 5,000,000 francs. The storm struck the village without warning and for hours the rain fell in torrents. It was accompanied by a high wind. The stream upon which the town is located was swollen to the dimensions of a raging torrent, which spread over the streets.

TRADER IN FROM NORTH

Colin Fraser Reached the City Yesterday With Large Pack of Furs

Colin Fraser, arrived in the city last evening from Fort Chipewyan with his annual gathering of the furs of the north. The list of the furs he brought in are as follows: 617 Marten 61P mink, 124 otter, 6 fisher, 577 lynx, 31 wolverine, 369 red fox, 13 wolf, 177 cross fox, 31 silver fox, 13 bear, 181 skunk, 1189 rats, 126 weasel, 50 beaver.

This is probably the largest bunch of skins brought from the north yet this year. The furs will be put upon the market immediately to be bid upon by local buyers, who will eventually ship them to New York or Europe.

Colin Fraser is one of the oldest and most extensive individual fur traders in the north. He has been dealing in furs for decades.

Talking with the Bulletin this morning, the veteran trader said that this season has been one of the most successful in the fur gathering business that he has ever experienced. The harvest was bountiful and the prices will be good. He and his party left Fort Chipewyan for Edmonton on July 5th.

In the party besides himself were Jimmy Macreadie and "Rags" Wilson. The latter used to play lacrosse in Edmonton last summer and is well known in the city. Also there were eleven men tracking, two bowmen and one steersman. From Fort Chipewyan to Stony Rapids, ten miles below Fort McMurray, the trip was made in steamers. At Stony Rapids the steamer was sent back, and the trip continued in scows as far as Pelican Portage. From Pelican Portage to Athabasca Landing the steamers were again used. The whole trip was uneventful. The banks of the Athabasca are heavily wooded and moose are abundant. Several times on the trip the party had glimpses of bears, at one time catching sight of a group of four on the bank. The boats were on the other side of the river, however, and the boys lost a good chance of a chase. On the 20th of July, last Friday, the party reached Athabasca Landing, where a halt was made for a day or two. The whole trip from Chipewyan to Edmonton was made in exactly three weeks.

"Rags" Wilson, who went north with Mr. Fraser last fall says he likes the life well enough, though it gets pretty lonely at the Fort sometimes, especially in the winter. The most of the fur is gathered in the winter, however. Mr. Fraser and his traders make trips around the country purchasing the furs. These trips some times last a week and are a diversion from the monotonous round of life at the Fort. The trips are made with large sleds drawn by Eskimo dogs, the drivers running alongside the sled. Usually these trips are very successful, the traders sometimes bringing in $1,000 worth of furs.

In the spring when the river opens up the Indians come down in their canoes, bringing their squaws and their furs with them. Then the Indians at the Fort are very peaceable and it is very seldom that trouble occurs. Two mounted police are stationed at the Fort, Sgt. Fields, and a Corporal. The district surrounding the Fort is rather poor farming land, being very rocky, but it is one of the best fur-producing districts in the north.

WON'T RECEIVE EARL GREY

Newfoundland Afraid Canada Wants to Annex the Island

(Special to the Bulletin)
St. John's, N.F., July 25.—Earl Grey's visit to the colony coupled with the reported confederation negotiations between him and Governor McGregor have caused intense excitement here. After repeated attempts backed by all the inside influence of the governor and Sir E. Morris, the committee selected have been unable to get public recognition of the Canadian viceroy. There is absolute apathy concerning a hall or reception. Premier Hon. Robt. Bond, has been compelled to issue a statement that he has nothing to do with Earl Grey's visit. There is strong anti-confederation feeling here now.

AMAZED AT THE PROGRESS OF THE WEST

"The development throughout the west is wonderful, and can only be gauged by one who has been absent for a period," declared Mr. James P. Grant, son of Gen. Douglas Grant, who is paying a visit to Canada from the old country, after having been absent for some five or six years, and who was interviewed by the Winnipeg Free Press.

"The growth of Winnipeg is simply phenomenal, and the place is doubtless destined to develop into a mighty city. When I left the country a few years ago it gave promise of being a big place, but the Winnipeg of today has grown out of all recognition, and what is taking place in the gateway city is only a reflex of general western development."

"I was out here in 1883 and served through the Northwest Rebellion of '85," declared Mr. Grant, "and a contrast of conditions then and now is absolutely amazing. I was for many years farming south of Oak Lake, which I consider a good country, and I am pleased to find that the crops in that district are looking remarkably well this season; in fact, the crops generally north of Brandon are in excellent shape."

"Having lived so many years in the west, I take great interest in the development of the country, and I am pleased to say that I have been instrumental in sending out some two hundred young fellows during the past few seasons, and hope to be returning with a strong party next spring."

"You are not staying out here then, Mr. Grant?" inquired the Press man.

"No, I am staying in Winnipeg for the exhibition, after having been as far west as Edmonton and Calgary, but in August I am returning to the old country, after paying a short visit to my kind friend and relative, Sir James Grant, of Ottawa."

"Before I left the old country I had the pleasure of meeting the heads of the Church Army and the Salvation Army, and I endeavored to explain to them that the very best of brains and brawn were needed in this northwest country, and I believe that strong efforts will be made to send out settlers of good quality."

Mr. Grant, who also served in the South African campaign, lost none of his early love for Canada, and although having enjoyed five years' residence amongst English comfort and refined society, declares that he is sorry that his duties will not enable him to make a longer stay. In 1890 Mr. Grant travelled through to the coast with his father, Gen. Douglas Grant; that was sixteen years ago, and the western Canada of today, compared with the western Canada of 1890, is a monumental tribute to the energy, the devotion and zeal of the pioneers of progress, who have left their impress upon the prairie country.

—Of exceedingly varied interest is the July number of Rod and Gun and Motor Sports in Canada, published by W. J. Taylor, at Woodstock, Ont. With the usual completeness, characteristic of each number of this magazine, the whole Dominion from Labrador to British Columbia, is covered, and articles and stories concerning New Brunswick, Nova Scotia, Quebec, Ontario, Manitoba, etc. find places.

The cover cut showing interlocked deer seen on the prairies by a party of Grand Trunk Pacific surveyors cannot fail to arouse much interest amongst sportsmen, and by a curious coincidence both incidents find a place in the same number. A successful moose hunt in the Cobalt district is told; and the arrangements for the first Summer Camp of the Alpine club of Canada are described by the president.

MURDERER TOOK CARBOLIC ACID

Shot His Wife in Pasadena and Terminated His Own Next Day in Los Angeles

(Special to the Bulletin)
Los Angeles, Cal., July 25.—W. K. Hudson, an engineer who shot and killed his wife in Pasadena, was found today unconscious in his room at a lodging house of this city and died a short time later from carbolic acid taken with suicidal intent. Hudson came from Pasadena last night, two hours after he killed his wife. He successfully made his escape from the officers.

VEGREVILLE NEWS

(Correspondence)
Vegreville, July 25.—We are having lovely weather and plenty of rain and the best prospects for good crops of everything, we have ever seen in this country. Grain is nearly all headed out.

Our town is still building up and improving so fast as ever. It is surprising what a difference two or three weeks makes in its appearance. Dr. Rush has made quite an improvement on his residence with a new veranda and paint.

The ladies' aid has been busy fixing up the Methodist church and parsonage.

Rev. Mr. Argue and wife are rejoicing over the arrival of a bright baby boy that weighed 11-1/2 lbs.

Mr. Terney and family have come and taken up their abode in our thriving village.

George Robertson and wife are the happy parents of a bright baby boy.

Mr. Pringle has sold out and is going to start on a southern trip soon.

Mr. and Mrs. Orrville Cunningham have returned from their Edmonton trip and taken up their residence on their homestead near here.

The purchasers of the Cols & Abbott store are building an addition and expect to carry a large stock of general merchandise.

CANADA'S AGGREGATE TRADE NEARLY DOUBLED

Ottawa, July 25.—Canada's foreign trade for the financial year that ended June 30th last, amounted to $552,000,000, which is an increase of over 81 millions over the previous year. This is far and away the best showing in the country's history and a striking evidence of the unexampled prosperity that prevails in practically every branch of trade. Imports for consumption of $290,342,408 represented an increase of $23,430,974 over the record for the preceding twelve months. Exports of domestic produce amounted to $251,657,592, an increase of $44,569,000. Exports of foreign produce $21,102,574, an increase of $8,440,748. The following statement shows the remarkable growth of the foreign trade of the Dominion in the last few years. By decades the trade has been as follows:—

1876$174,176,731
1886189,075,875
1896239,025,360
1906552,000,000

The exports of Canadian farm products in the year ending June 30, 1906, were $120,518,297, which represents an increase of $27,186,689. Exports of fisheries and of forest products increased $57,000,000. Exports of Canadian manufactures and of minerals each increased three and a half millions. During the month of June imports for consumption amounted to $32,920,981, an increase of $4,234,173. The exports of domestic produce amounted to $27,269,984, an increase of $2,443,102, and the exports of foreign products to $3,524,184, an increase of $836,236.

MANITOBA ALLIANCE MEETS.

(Special to the Bulletin.)

Winnipeg, July 24.—This evening a convention opens here for the purpose of reorganizing the Manitoba Alliance and all the important temperance advocates of the province will be in attendance. J. J. Story, of Wawanesa, president of the Alliance, promises an important "message," which has been prepared by leading Winnipeg divines. The questions to be dealt with include the large increase in the number of bar rooms, the increase of drunkenness and the ease with which a friend of the provincial government is able to secure a license anywhere desired no matter what protests are made. The real object of the Alliance is to combat the Roblin government on the liquor question.

TEN DROWNED AT VANCOUVER

Princess Victoria Collided With the Chehalis and the Latter Sank Immediately

The Vancouver World tells of an accident which occurred in the entrance to that harbor on Saturday in which ten lives were lost. The World says: An accident of a nature which is, happily, rare in the history of Vancouver, took place at the narrow in the afternoon. The steamer Chehalis, owned by the Union Steamship company, and bound for the north, was struck by the steamer Princess of Victoria in the narrow in the afternoon and sank immediately. The Princess Victoria was an hour late in leaving here for Victoria, and she was making good time out of the harbor. Just as she rounded the point to plow her way through the narrow, the Chehalis was struggling in the tide-rip. Caught in the current, the Chehalis swung round, right across the bows of the Princess Victoria, and so far as could be made out from shore, the Chehalis was cut in two, and sank almost immediately. The engines of the Princess were reversed full speed, and her boats lowered. Ten men on board were drowned and six saved.

The Princess Victoria returned to the wharf after picking up her boats.

THREE TON COFFIN

(Special to the Bulletin)

New York, July 26.—Encased in a hermetically sealed copper envelope, within masonry coffin, the body of Russell Sage was today placed in a steel case four inches thick riveted with steel bolts, locked with a lock which can never be opened, and lowered into the grave, on which clove will be heaped and a mound built. The steel case weighs three tons. Ten strong men find it a task to lift it. Electrical connections will be made and strung so that an alarm will be given if an attempt is made to tamper with the remains. The coffin cost $22,000.

ROBBED OF THE GAME

Edmonton Protested Against Playing by Starlight and the Umpire Set Them Back.

Calgary, July 25.—Edmonton was openly robbed of the game tonight. At the end of the seventh innings, the score was, Edmonton 4, Calgary 3 and it was then so dark that Edmonton protested against going on in the field. They finally did go on. In the seventh innings there was no score and both teams prepared to go home, but to the surprise of all, the umpire ordered the teams out. Calgary took the field, but Edmonton declined and after putting a watch on Edmonton, Umpire Each called the game, giving it to Calgary nine to nothing. The result is much regretted by all, including the Calgary management, who preferred to have the game go to Edmonton than end as it did. Edmonton gained an advantage tonight through better work in the field. Edmonton now has the best catcher in the west in Holts. His work all day was gilt edged. Sullivan at third, also made good. Tonight Setters came along with the attack in good fashion. The Calgary team had no difficulty in hitting Howard, Crist, on the other hand, pitched a great game, but his support was fierce. The score was, Edmonton, 4 runs, 5 hits, 3 errors. Calgary, 3 runs, 9 hits, 7 errors. The teams meet again tomorrow night.

BINDER TWINE DISTRIBUTED

The two car loads of binder twine which were brought in from the Kingston factories by the Society of Equity for the use of farmers of Stony Plain and the Sturgeon, has all been distributed. According to other orders which were received a few hundred pounds however, still remain, and members who have not received their twine are requested to call at York & Son's warehouse on Saturday, the 28th and clear up.

CITIZENSHIP AND PUBLIC OFFICE

A local contemporary criticizes the new member for Vermilion for having previously held a position in the public service, argues that his resigning such position to become a candidate is evidence of undue political bias and from this proceeds to the general remark that "A man once he enters the pay of the Government, should know no politics whatever." This species of reasoning begins in impertinence, continues in blindness and ends in nonsense. The choice of a representative for Vermilion is the exclusive business of the people of Vermilion, and where an outside journal derives its authority to reprimand the electors of that constituency for their choice has not yet been made clear. If Mr. Holden's selection was due to undue political bias, while holding a public office, how happens it that the Conservatives of the constituency not only did not oppose him but that the local leaders of that party tendered him their support? This conclusion that a public servant should be a political ignoramus is in keeping with the system of illogic by which it is reached. Plainly stated the proposal is that the sacrifice of citizenship should be made the penalty of accepting public office. The man who sacrifices citizenship for office is neither a good citizen nor a good official. The public service merits the best man available and such men should not be deterred from entering the service by the demand to desert their rights as citizens of Canada. So long as a public official does not use his public office to interfere with the political liberties of his fellows, there can be no reason why he should be refused the enjoyment of the same liberties or why he should be castigated for exercising them.

FIRE INSURANCE RATES

A mistaken impression was given by press reports of the new fire insurance rates as explained by Secretary Birch of the Manitoba and Northwest Board of Underwriters to a gathering of Edmonton insurance men on Monday. The statement of Mr. Birch that a basis rate on mercantile risks of 1 per cent. per annum had been established, was construed as an announcement that the rates heretofore obtained on such risks had been replaced by a flat rate of one per cent. The new rate quoted is the minimum rate chargeable for such insurance and could be secured on only what is known among insurance men as a "perfect" building. The requirements of use, location and fire fighting equipment necessary to secure classification as a "perfect" are said to be so stringent that no business block in the city will secure this minimum rate, and the various properties will be taxed in addition to the 1 per cent. a fixed charge for each point in which they fall short of these requirements. The general effect is considered likely to mean higher or rather than lower rates on the insurance of business establishments. Heretofore there was no basis rate and the rates charged were determined by general rules as to the business carried on, the nature of the building and the degree of isolation. The adoption of a schedule of specific additions to the basis rate for failures to meet the requirements of a "perfect" building will make it necessary to submit a description of each building on which insurance is desired to the board of underwriters, by whom the aggregate rate will be computed from the schedule.

The adoption of a basis rate of 45c per $100 on residential property on the other hand, is considered likely to generally lower the rates on this class of buildings from those formerly charged.

The suggestion of Mr. Birch for lowering the basis rate on business risks are well worthy the attention of the board of trade, the city council and the business men generally. It was intimated that 5c. would be taken from the rate for a stricter bylaw governing fire limits; another 5c. for an efficient fire alarm system; and 3c. for fitting all hydrants with connections for the fire engine, and it was suggested that a total reduction of 25c might be secured.

Such reductions would practically mean a saving on business risks of 25c per annum per $100; of $250 per annum per $1000; of $35 per annum per $10000; or $350 per annum per $100000, and on business insurance amounting of $2500 per year. The saving to the individual policy-holder might not be large, but the total economy to the business interests of the city is large enough to deserve the attention of the board of trade and the civic authorities. The board might well compute the total business insurance of the city and from this represent to the city council the actual saving which would be effected by the suggested improvements.

Nor is the saving in insurance the only or the chief argument in favor of furthering the proposals. The changes suggested are along the line of better protection against fire and as additional safeguards to his property the business man has an interest in them far greater than as a means of securing lower insurance rates. The real protection against fire is the fire brigade and in the event of fire it is of far less consequence that the insurance rates be low than that the building in its pathway offer the least possible food for the flames, that the city have an efficient fire alarm system and adequate fire fighting appliances. If the rigid enforcement of fire limit regulations, the installation of an alarm system and the betterment of the fire fighting appliances had no effect on the insurance rates, or even if these improvements tended to raise the rates, they would still be improvements worthy the advocacy of the business men. But that they hold for him the additional attraction of reduction in his rates is an additional reason why he should urge their adoption.

Free Press: The ten-year-old daughter of David Reddick, living two miles from Hague, Sask., was struck by lightning last week and instantly killed.

Winnipeg Free Press: Norman Francis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Cosgrove of Medora, Man., was accidentally killed on Thursday afternoon. It appears a loaded shot gun was unintentionally left in the granary, and fell into the hands of the three boys, aged 5, 7 and 10, respectively. In some way the weapon was discharged, the charge almost tearing off the left hand and entering the breast of little Norman. Medical aid was at once summoned, but the little fellow only lived a few hours. The funeral was held to the Medora cemetery this afternoon at 2 p.m.

NATION'S POOR NOT GREAT

the United States Decreasing

Washington, July 24.—Some interesting figures are published by the government showing the number of persons in the almshouses of the country. Since the figures deal only with paupers in almshouses and not with all the dependent poor, they reflect rather the influence of the laws governing poor relief, the almshouse facilities afforded, and the method of almshouse administration, than the extent of pauperism.

At the close of 1904 there were in almshouses of the United States, 163,174 persons, 111,817 males and 52,356 females. The number of paupers enumerated in 1880 was 66,203, and in 1890, 72,045. The increase has not kept pace with the growth in population and therefore the ratio of almshoused paupers to population is decreasing. In 1880, this ratio was 132 per 100,000. In 1890 it was 116.6, and in 1904 it was 101.4. The government reports find a large part of this decrease is due to change in the treatment of the mentally and physically defective who in former times were sent to the poor houses but are now cared for in asylums and hospitals, and a part to the development of nationally organized charity which strives to make the poor self-supporting, and to place destitute children in families and not in poor houses.

The figures show that almshouse pauperism is decreasing more rapidly among females than among the males. The chief distinction between the sexes seems to be that females having once entered a poor house are there for good, while men, to a large extent are merely winter boarders.

The ratios of paupers in almshouses to population have decreased in most of the states. The states in which a decrease did not occur were for the most part those in which an important function of an almshouse is that of a hospital, and the newer states in which organized indoor relief is a comparatively recent development.

Although decreasing the ratios are still high in some of the older commonwealths located in sections with large urban centres and a comparatively severe climate.

The mobility of the pauper population is a striking feature, and is shown by the fact that of the total paupers who were in almshouses at some time during 1904, 81,412, or 49.9 per cent, were admitted in that year, and 54,199 of 33.2 per cent discharged. In the states these percentages show wide variations, which reflect largely the varying influences of climatic and social conditions and of pauper laws and methods of almshouse administration. For example, states with large urban populations, and states with methods of almshouse administration allowing great freedom of ingress and egress show large percentages of admission and discharge, while agricultural states and states with mild winters show comparatively small percentages.

The percent of discharges do not, however, signify that the discharged never return, for thousands who are discharged with the opening of summer, the majority can be depended upon to return with the cold weather. In fact, the number admitted during 1904, were for the most part, seasonal inmates.

This mobility of the almshouse population suggests that many inmates are able to provide for their own support for a part of the year at least, and this is found to be the case, since about three-fourths, 74.8 per cent, of those discharged, were discharged "to their own keeping" rather than the care of relatives or friends.

Negro paupers do not constitute so large a proportion of the almshouse population, as negroes form of the general population, which is surprising, since the position in the economic scale usually determines the extent of pauperism. A probable explanation of this seeming paradox is that negroes are represented in the almshouses in accordance with the provisions made for them rather than for their necessity.

The foreign-born whites, whose economic condition is not high, show a greater tendency towards pauperism than the native whites of native parentage of native whites of foreign parentage. There is, however, no reason to believe that many of the immigrants drift into the almshouses soon after their arrival in the United States, for only 2.3 per cent of all the foreign-born in almshouses have been in this country less than five years. Among the different nationalities of foreign-born whites, the degree of thrift, combined with racial characteristics, seems to determine in large part, the tendency towards pauperism.

That pauperism is in a large measure a concomitant of age and its accompanying evils, is shown by the large percentage, 71, at least fifty years of age, and the rapid increase in the number of almshouse paupers in each of the succeeding quinquennial age periods between thirty-five and sixty-five years, after which the high death rate prevents any further increase.

The relation between age and pauperism is also shown when it is observed that the proportion of paupers appears to be much smaller among the native whites of foreign parentage, in which class there are comparatively few elderly persons, than it is among the foreign-born whites, which class is composed for the most part of adults.

Among the relatively large number of negroes in the earlier age groups are found many who are suffering from pulmonary complaints and many feeble-minded, who are sent to the almshouse as soon as their inability to earn a living is established.

Of the total paupers in almshouses nearly two-thirds, 66.4 per cent, were mentally or physically defective. More than three-fourths, 76.4 per cent of the almshouse paupers old enough to work were incapacitated.

Of the aggregate almshouse population 17,154 or 10.5 per cent, died during the year. Of this number more than two-thirds, 67.6 per cent.

TOWN SITE IS LOCATED

C.N.R. Selects Site For New Town at Whitewater Lake

White Whale Lake, July 25.—The people of Wabamun will be pleased to know that the question of townsite at the east end of the lake has at last been settled, and that the south-east quarter of eleven, belonging to C. H. Dunn, has been accepted by the company and the work of surveying the lots will begin soon. No date of opening of sale has been decided upon as yet.

The hailstorm, which passed over here Friday afternoon, July 20, did no damage, but in the Glory Hills region a few farmers were hailed out. The most of those damaged carried insurance.

A trip to Edmonton reveals the fact that the country west of that city will undoubtedly be rewarded with the most bountiful harvest ever known in the Northwest. And according to reports the whole Edmonton district is rejoicing over the same condition of affairs. In addition to the general good feeling over an abundant yield of all crops the denizens of this district are somewhat elated over the rapid progress of the lake as a summer resort. Lots are reported as selling rapidly and another season will undoubtedly see many fine cottages around the lake shore.

Last week two fine motor boats appeared, one belonging to Mr. Lorne York and the other to Mr. Bush, of the Bush Coal Co. The latter also brought out a sail boat. All three were launched on the lake and the motors proved to be all that could be desired of their class of boat.

Two other motor launches will soon be put on the lake. C. H. Dunn has one coming from the States, and Mr. Haddock's will soon be completed in Edmonton.

With the coming of the C.N.R. which will be running trains to the lake soon, this place is destined to become the most popular pleasure resort in the Northwest. The railroad skirts the north shore, for the entire twelve miles of water, so that any point on that side will be convenient to reach. There is then at least fifteen miles of fine sandy beach which goes out so gradually that it is a particularly fine place for a children's playground. Most of the shore is high and wooded, the water is clean and clear, making a specially desirable combination for a pleasure resort. Fishing is good, there being large numbers of that gamey fish known as pike. Large numbers of ducks are also to be seen in the lake.

Among the visitors from Edmonton to enjoy the pleasures of the lake are H. W. B. Douglas, Mr. Chauvin, Mr. Whitelaw, A. D. Tucker and wife, Mr. York and Mr. Ogilvie.

Mr. Renniger has complete this residence and made a trip to town returning with Mrs. Renniger and children.

Landseekers still continue to visit this section daily and most of them are well satisfied.

Friday, July 20, was treaty day on the reserve, and about $800 was paid to the Indians.

DOWNPOUR AT THE FAIR

(Special to the Bulletin)
Winnipeg, July 26.—Despite a downpour, American day at the exhibition was one of the most successful on record, an attendance of 22,000 being rolled up. In the evening the largest grand stand attendance of the fair to date was registered. Owing to this condition of the track racing events, stock parade and athletic meet were all held over. A feature of the day was the arrival of 1500 Pennsylvania editors who were made guests of the city and dined in the evening.

FOOTBALL

League games for the championship of Alberta will commence shortly. Edmonton will play off with Strathcona, the winners playing the winning team from the south.

There is no doubt that there is material in Edmonton for a championship team. All that is needed is practice. There should be a full team practice every practice night, and chances would be good for landing the provincial honors. Tonight practice will be held on the grounds opposite the Richelieu and it is expected that every man will turn out.

BASEBALL

The following comments come from the Calgary Albertan:

The Edmonton people started first to get under way in baseball, but they have been unable to keep up with Calgary. The two teams have met 11 times. One game was interrupted, one game a tie, one game went to Edmonton and eight games to Calgary.

It is understood that Moose Baxter will be in Edmonton uniform before the end of the season.

During the present season Calgary has played 23 games, winning 15, losing four, and drawing in the other four. They have scored 141 runs against 68. They have scored five shut outs and have not been shut out.

EDMONTON LOST YESTERDAY.

Calgary, July 25.—Edmonton won the afternoon game and then lost it again. The score at the end of the first half of the third innings was Edmonton 4, Calgary 0. The score at the end of the fifth innings was Calgary 5, Edmonton 1, and thus remained to the end. Edmonton put on four new men, Hodge, behind the bat, Settle, Sullivan and Adams. They all performed creditably, Adams doing the most of the stick work for the team, getting a single and a double. Hodge showed up remarkably well and Sullivan and Settle did all the work necessary when called upon, Sullivan doing his with much grace and finish. Settle on the other hand was a factor in the coaching line.

Yeazell and Mullin were even in the box with even hits, though Mullin had a little the worst of it. Mullin struck out only one man while Yeazell hung four scalps to his belt. The feature of the day was the catch made by Cronin in the seventh innings from Moynie's liner to right, Cronin, who was put in the fifth taking Howard's place in the out garden made a long run for the ball, got it on the jump, fell down and rolled over, but held to it. Edmonton scored three in the second innings. Hodge getting a life on an excusable error of Mullin's, who was covering first when Mahaffey feigned the ball. Settle then skied to Crist on right field which was also muffed. Dolson singled driving in all before him and on Mahaffey's error of Deaton's liner Dolson scored.

In the next innings Gleason singled, took third on a wild pitch and scored on Adams' hit.

Calgary scored one in the third on two hits and a sacrifice and one in the third on a double and an error by Howard. The three in the fifth came from an error by Cronin, single by Moynie, an error by Dolson from a badly thrown ball by Settle, a steal and a single. After the fifth there was no scoring on either side. Yeazell was first up in the eighth, doubled and got third on Adams' out but Sullivan failed to bring him in.

MUTINY IN POLISH TOWN.
(Special to The Bulletin.)

Warsaw, July 25.—Mutiny has taken place among the troops comprising the garrison at Aleksandrow and fighting is now in progress between mutineers and loyal troops. Many government buildings are destroyed and numerous casualties have resulted on both sides. The populace is fleeing across the frontier.

KILLED BY STREET CAR.
(Special to The Bulletin.)

Winnipeg, July 25.—Attempting to board a moving train of street cars yesterday Victor Fulgen an Icelandic laborer, fell beneath the wheels of a trailer which passed over his legs. Amputation of both limbs was necessary and he expired this morning at one o'clock.

Another accident which may yet prove serious befell Motorman Hall. While attempting to cross between a heavy car and a work train his arm and chest were crushed.

Robert Ritchie, conductor, likewise met with a painful accident. While walking along the steps of an open car his head came in contact with a telegraph wire knocking him unconscious.

FARMERS' DAY AT WINNIPEG.
(Special to The Bulletin.)

Winnipeg, July 25.—With perfect weather the second day of the Winnipeg Industrial Exhibition continued the happy prophesy of the opening day and rolled up an attendance for farmers' day, 19,000 people passing the turnstiles.

WHOLESALE CONDEMNATION.
(Special to The Bulletin.)

St. Petersburg July 26.—Proclamations announce that the death sentence has been imposed on the Emperor, Gen. Trepkoff, Gen. Orloff, the "pacifist" of the Baltic provinces. The terrorists are said to have succeeded in snatching copies of the sentence on the doors of Orloff's and Trepkoff's quarters. A peculiar report gaining credence here is to the effect that the Czar's health is in the same state as during the latter days of the Japanese-Russian war when it was feared his mental powers were threatened. According to this he desires to abdicate and turn over the reins of government to a regent to hold for his son but the reactionaries are not ready for this and so are holding the Czar prisoner.

KING SENDS SPECIMEN.
(Special to The Bulletin.)

London, July 26.—Acting under instructions from King Edward, A. C. Brock of Peterborough purchased a five-year-old bay gelding which His Majesty intends to send to Canada as a typical specimen of the English shire horse.

CAUSE KNOWN
(Special to The Bulletin.)

Nelson, B.C., July 26.—The Jury in the Beaver Canyon accident on the Great Northern have brought in a verdict that no evidence was adduced to show what caused the wheels of the buffet car to mount the rails nor was there any evidence to show negligence.

WILL USE THE CHINESE LABORER

The United States Government will Use Them for the Isthmus

Washington, D. C., July 24.—Chinese labor is to be used after all in building the Panama canal.

The canal commission at its latest meeting on the isthmus considered the advisability of importing coolies from the far east. As a result the matter was referred to Attorney-General Moody to determine whether such action is prohibited by the Chinese exclusion and contract labor laws. It is not believed either law applies to the canal zone.

This step is one the authorities have been discussing for months, and it is to be taken now only as a last resort. American workmen will not accept employment as laborers in the canal zone; negroes of the West India Islands have failed to render satisfactory service; natives of Northern Spain, who have been induced to go to the zone, are twice as effective as negroes, but enough of them cannot be secured.

The commission is compelled therefore to fall back upon Chinese, and arrangements are being made to import a couple of shiploads. If they prove as industrious as elsewhere, and show no ill effects from living in the tropical climate more men of the same race will be brought to the isthmus.

Most of the 23,000 laborers now employed on the isthmus are West Indian negroes, hailing principally from Jamaica and Martinique. Mr. Shonts, chairman of the commission, estimates these men would perform only from a quarter to a third as much work as the average American workmen. While the pay given them is only one half that received by white laborers, about 32 cents a day, suit the commission feels it is not gaining the result for the money which it should and when the people of the country will demand.

Some months ago Mr. Shonts talked with Sir William Van Soest, the Canadian millionaire who built the Central Railway of Canada. Sir William told Mr. Shonts the best service had been given in the construction of the road by Spaniards from the northwest corner of the peninsula. They had proved hardy, and tenacious and were intelligent enough to be ambitious to become surveyors. Arrangements were made to get one of these men, and they have proved good workmen.

As they came voluntarily to the canal zone there were no contract complications, labor unions in this country have no complaint against their employment and there were none of the economic questions to deal with that would arise if oriental labor were hired. These men are given twice the wages of the negroes and have shown they are worth it. An agent of the commission is now in Spain trying to get more men of this same character.

It has become apparent to the commission that if the canal is to be built expeditiously it will be necessary to keep digging every hour of the twenty-four. Congress passed a law at the last session making ten hours a day's work. It is probable an effort will be made to establish three shifts, perhaps of eight hours each.

Twenty-three thousand men are the men that can be profitably employed at one time; more produces congestion and retards the work. In order to keep the digging continuously in progress it will be necessary to employ twice and probably thrice 23,000 men. The big army must be enrolled from other sources than the West Indies and Spain, China with its tolling millions is the only field which gives promise of furnishing the kind of labor that will give the results the commission seeks.

Chief Engineer Stevens believes in Chinese labor. He had large experience with men of the yellow race on the Pacific coast, when he was building the Hill transcontinental line and it is his judgement that Chinese from the rice fields of Canton will prove more efficient than any other class. Canton Chinamen are big sturdy fellows who labor out of doors in the rice paddy under a hot sun, and the conditions at home would be to some extent similar to those they would find upon the isthmus.

The Chinese are quiet, where the negroes are talkative. Mr. Shonts described the latter as "strong on the jaw." Instead of working they would discuss how to do things. The Chinese are industrious also where the negroes are lazy. Mr. Shonts recently received a proposition from a man willing to furnish all the Chinese required for a dollar a day. This would be about the same wage as paid to the negroes, with the chance of more work done.

The commission has been inquiring into the results of the employment of Chinese labor in various parts of the world. When the French were building the canal they used Chinese. Thousands of the celestial died of yellow fever. But there is no yellow fever on the isthmus under American administration. Chinese have been employed at Burne, Madagascar, and South Africa with good results also.

though it must be confessed the English did not reap all the advantages expected from the introduction of Chinese in their possessions.

The commission does not propose to make any mistake in this matter, having determined to import a thousand Chinese at first to ascertain how they stand in the climate and do the work. If they prove efficient, more will be employed. The Chinese location in this city has been asked by the state department if the government at Peking would object to the employment of Cantonese in the Canal zone. The location has replied it believes no obstacle will be put in the way but the government at Peking has not been consulted and it may forbid any of its subjects to accept work on the isthmus.

POULTRY A MONEY MAKER IN B.C.

A correspondent of the Canadian Poultry Review, from Cranbrook, British Columbia, writes that money is to be made in that district by the sale of eggs and poultry. He says: "Eggs in this locality have been selling all winter at from 60 to 65c, and in several cases at 75 cents per dozen. In March they were worth 40 cents per dozen. I do a little in the egg and poultry line myself. We have 40 hens and they have laid fairly well; but the eggs are sold fresh laid, people coming to the house for them. During the season I have sold in the morning town of Moyie many dozens of birds at 22 cents per lb. My birds are dressed. I have a steady market for 100 lbs. of poultry flesh per week at the price named. It is not easy to buy birds fit for market about here. The farmers all along the foothills of the Rockies and through the line up to Strathcona give no attention to poultry and miss a good many dollars by their neglect of what would pay them well. They seem quite content to allow a Calgary dealer to get his supplies from the United States to bring in all the turkeys, geese, and ducks consumed in the whole district during the Christmas holidays. The Chinese population of this town, Cranbrook, alone are extensive buyers of chickens and ducks. An experienced man with incubators and brooders, would make lots of money here."

DIRECTOR IN TWENTY-FIVE COMPANIES

New York, July 24.—Russell Sage, who died here at Lawrenceville, has an interesting history. This multi-millionaire and Nestor of American financiers, was born on August 4th, 1816, in the little hamlet of Verona, Onondaga county, New York, where his parents, members of a little company of pioneers from Connecticut, had half an acre of a homestead. The family decided to settle in Onondaga county. At the age of twelve years young Russell Sage started as a messenger.

He was well liked, and quickly advanced to the post of salesman and at the age of 22 established a wholesale grocery of his own at 119 River street Troy. He soon became one of the prominent merchants of the town, and a leader in politics. He was a Whig in 1845 and in 1846 was elected to his first office as alderman, later becoming county treasurer. He was a delegate to the National Whig convention in 1847, and in 1853 elected to congress. In 1857 the young merchant had acquired the fortune estimated at almost half a million dollars, a vast amount for those days, and he determined to retire from active business life. He had, however, already become interested in a railroad, his first transaction of this character being a loan to the Lacrosse Railroad Co., which led to further transactions resulting in his acquiring his money in the road now forming the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul, of which he became vice president. This determined Sage to devote his future energy to operations in Wall street and in 1861 he opened up his first office in New York. About this time he became intimate with Jay Gould, with whom he formed an association which continued for many years. About 1871, Mr. Sage originated the system of trading in "puts," "calls" and "straddles," in which he continued to deal thereafter on a colossal scale.

While he purchased a seat on the New York stock exchange in 1894, it is believed that he never appeared on the floor of the exchange. During his long association with Jay Gould he was prominently connected with the transportation lines of the west and elsewhere. He was called the father of railroad construction in Wisconsin and Minnesota, having been president of more than twenty-five corporations or gamblers for the construction and extension of railroad lines. His fortune, like that of Mr. Gould, increased mainly from the advance in value of the securities of corporations which came under the control of the two great financiers. At the time of his death Mr. Sage was an officer and director in 55 great railway and telegraph corporations.

THE COMING OF THE MANUFACTURERS

Industrial Canada: An advance note has been issued by the Canadian Manufacturers' association, giving the itinerary and arrangements for the western excursion. The list of places at which the members of the party will stop, includes all the towns and cities of importance in the west. The excursion will leave Toronto and Montreal on September 14, and will arrive in Winnipeg on the 16th. On the three following days the convention of the association will be held. Following this the members who are not taking the coast trip will return, reaching Toronto or Montreal on Saturday, the 22nd. This will allow those who just wish to attend the convention to do so in ten days.

The trip from Winnipeg to Victoria will be a most enjoyable one. Leaving by the C. P. R., the course will be through Regina, Moose Jaw, Calgary, Banff and Vancouver and Victoria. Besides the interest which attaches to the great wheat fields of the west, and to the towns whose location and natural advantages are fast making them centres of industrial life, the excursionists will have the advantage of a day and a half in the national park at Banff. Of all the scenery to which this continent can lay claim, there is nothing to excel in grandeur the wonderful lakes, forests, and snow-capped mountains of this district. From Banff the party will proceed through the mountains and across British Columbia to Vancouver, and thence across the channel to Victoria.

Returning the route lies through Glacier, a mountain town, and north to Edmonton, where a stop will be made. From Edmonton to Winnipeg the trip will be by the C. N. R. A number of the prominent towns will be visited during the journey. From Winnipeg, the C. P. R. will carry the party back to Toronto and Montreal. The time taken for the excursion, including attendance at the convention will be twenty-one days.

The excursion will take place only on condition that a sufficient number of reservations have been made in advance. Final decision will be taken on July 25, by which time it is expected that those who intend to go will have communicated with the secretary. Reservations in sleeping cars will be made in the order in which applications are made.

The excursion is a notable one in Canadian life. Few countries are situated as Canada, with its manufacturing interests situated in one part and its great agricultural wealth in another. The present prosperity and development of this country are the result of the co-operation of these elements. Whatever will tend to bring these two elements together will make for the general welfare of Canada.

The visit to the west of a large number of representative manufacturers will do much to make both parties better acquainted. The manufacturer will have an opportunity of seeing the vastness of the territory and the opportunities in the way of producing and consuming population in those territories. The men of the west will get into contact with their eastern fellow-citizens and better market facilities and better understanding of the wants of this other will follow.

We are not going too far in holding that the convention in Winnipeg and excursion to the coast will be of great material benefit to both east and west. Its success will largely depend upon the number of those who avail themselves of the opportunity to attend, but enough are assured to make it certain that every big industry will be represented. We trust that a record crop will get a record convention.

THE CRISIS AT ST. PETERSBURG

St. Petersburg, July 23.—The attention of the world probably will be centered on the political situation in St. Petersburg, which appears to have reached a crisis. The dissolution of Parliament by Imperial Ukase, resulting in the resignation of Stolypin, minister of the interior, to the post, the mass of troops in the capital city, and general belief that the dictatorship is inevitable. All make it appear that an armed conflict is impending. The address to the country to be issued by the specialists will be awaited with interest. The temper in which the masses of the Russian people will take the summary dismissal of the nation's elected representatives will be one of the most important developments of the week.

The views of those who support the autocracy are shown in an interview given to the Associated Press correspondent on Saturday by a cabinet minister, who said: "The Government must hold on until a stable regime is assured or anarchy will supervene."

The news has travelled fast in the country, and the general expectation is that the peasantry, accepting the dispersal of parliament as the final blow to their hopes, will rise in a body. The proletarian organizations have been preparing for months for just such a prospect. Some time ago when dissolution seemed imminent, the various groups of the opposition virtually agreed to follow the example of the French patriots of the states general and meet, if driven out of the Tauride palace, wherever and whenever circumstances dictated until a constitution was firmly established. This morning the members arranged that, in view of the meetings being broken up here, they would go immediately to Finland to agree upon what course to be pursued. Some groups left by afternoon and evening trains.

St. Petersburg, July 23.—Whether they are to meet at Viborg or Helsingfors is not known, but it seems that the members are to declare open war. It is impossible to describe the consternation with which constitutional democrats learned the news. Although it had been bruited for the past three days, the Klax was received by them in blank amazement. Even Saturday night's caucuses did not believe the government would dare to take the threatened step, and seriously discussed the attitude to be taken towards Minister of the Interior Stolypin when he appeared in parliament to answer interpellations. The government undoubtedly calculated on catching the opposition off its guard, but if it expected to strike terror into the hearts of the members of parliament it has failed. Finland in Russian history will become synonymous with the tennis court of the French republic. Even Count Heyden, the leader, and other members of the right, are understood to have departed. It is quite improbable, however, that parliament as a body will attempt to formally set up its authority against that of the government. While Stolypin, who succeeds Mr. Gorky as premier, undoubtedly is a much stronger man than his predecessor, he probably will be unequal to the task of piloting the country through the revolutionary upheaval which is just ahead, and the general belief is that a dictatorship must come soon. Perhaps the most remarkable feature of the events connected with the dissolution of parliament is that the government carefully avoided notifying the representatives of the foreign powers of what was coming. No word of official warning was received even by the representatives of Russia's ally, France. The only intimation that something was about to happen was the appearance of the guards at the embassies, legations and consulates shortly before midnight, but this morning, immediately after the guards had been stationed, notes were sent explaining the measures taken to protect the foreign representatives. To-night the trains are filled with foreigners departing for abroad.

"PUMPING" MR. HILL

President James J. Hill of the Great Northern had something of interest to Vancouver people to say in an interview at Spokane the other day.

"The terminus of our new Canadian line will be Vancouver," said Mr. Hill, "and the road will pass through Pierre, B.C. Delays will be made into the States wherever the topography of the country or other conditions warrant it."

"Does the fact that the line will pass through Fernie mean that it will not touch Edmonton?"

"No, I don't. I don't care to say whether we will or will not go to Edmonton. You will have to wait for developments on that."

"How do you expect to fill the gap between Fernie and Grand Forks, B. C., on your Canadian line?" was asked.

"With a railroad," was the characteristic reply.

"Will the route be made through the States, or over Canadian soil?"

"Perhaps both. In some places we will make detours into the States."

"Where will you make detours?"

"Several places; I don't care to particularize."

"What is the Great Northern doing toward electrifying its lines?"

"We are trying to try out electricity in some of our tunnels."

"Do you expect to try it on any of your branch lines?"

"Not now."

"Do you think electricity will ever supplant steam for railroad power?"

"I don't know."

COMPETITION WANTED

(Calgary Alberta)

It is to be hoped that at the meeting of the city council and the board of trade which will be held tomorrow night that the members will not get awed off onto the question of freight rates, something of interest to the wholesalers, principally, and an academic question at that, but that the question of railway competition shall have the consideration that it deserves.

The meeting is called, not for the adjustment or rearrangement of freight rates. A public meeting or a meeting of the council is not the place that questions of that kind are to be taken up. The meeting is called for the purpose of taking up the question of additional railway competition.

The necessity of additional railway competition is apparent. All of the leading and prosperous cities in Western Canada have railway competition. Worse than that there is no definite promise that Calgary is to have railway competition at any particular time.

That is the issue before the merchants. The question of freight rates may be of importance, but let no one be blinded by that.

The people of Calgary should go to the meeting tomorrow night to discuss a new railway for Calgary, and how to get it.

CALGARY MERCHANTS WANT COMPETITION

Calgary, July 21.—A meeting of the wholesalers' section of the Calgary board of trade, was held in the office of the secretary of the board Friday afternoon, when freight rate conditions were discussed at some length.

A number of illustrations of gross and unjust discriminations against Calgary were mentioned. It was suggested that all these discriminations should be tabulated and that the section should go to the company with a broadside ultimatum, as forcible as such a broadside could be ejected.

The majority of those present, however, seemed to be of the opinion that the proper thing would be to go after railway competition and not waste any more time conferring with the C. P. R., which met their representations with grant courtesy.

A committee, however, was appointed for the purpose of collecting all the various illustrations of unfair treatment, which will be presented to the meeting which will be held in Calgary on Wednesday night next.

There was a good attendance at the meeting of the wholesalers and no person present arose to defend the railway company against the charges of gross injustice to Calgary.

WORLD'S FAIR IN BERLIN

The German Government has decided to invite the nations of the world to participate in a great international exposition to be held in Berlin in 1912. It is proposed that the exposition shall surpass all world's fairs, not excepting the marvelous exposition for which Paris is famous, or the two great American fairs at Chicago and St. Louis.

German promoters feel confident that the record of progress in arts and sciences will enable the exhibition to be truly magnificent and of unprecedented proportions.

Plans of the fair are to be made with German thoroughness. The emperor desires it to be truly representative of the modern might and greatness of the German empire.

Fein expects within the next six years to have attained the proud eminence of being the continent's first capital in point of population and commercial and political importance, and will make most lavish arrangements for entertaining foreigners.

THE Oxford Hot Water Boiler takes advantage of every known scientific point which will increase the generation and distribution of heat. We have increased its power enormously by making the walls of the fire box slant upwards above the fire. This gives a greater surface for the direct action of the rays of heat.

Oxford Hot Water Boiler

The first water section over the fire is double depth, with bell-shaped front, which also increases the surface directly exposed to the action of the heat. These are but two of the excellent points which make the Oxford Hot Water Boiler the most economical and most efficient home-warming apparatus on the market. If you will drop us a post card, we will send you our catalogue, which explains the whole system.

FOSTER'S FORECAST.

Washington, D.C., July 21.—Last bulletin gave forecast of disturbance to cross continent 20 to 24, warm wave 19 to 23, cool wave 22 to 26. Next disturbance will reach Pacific coast about the 24, cross west of Rockies country by close of 25, great central valleys 26 to 28, eastern states 29. Warm wave will cross west of Rockies about 21, great central valleys 26, eastern states 28. Cool wave will cross west of Rockies country about 27, great central valleys 29, eastern states 31.

This disturbance will be the first after we have passed the apex, or high point, of the summer's heat and with it we will begin the long slide downward toward winter's cold. It will also bring the closing days of the severe storm period that will follow July 26. As the cooler weather comes in last days of July showers will be more general except in the drought districts.

First disturbances of August will reach Pacific coast about July 29, cross west of Rockies country by close of 30, great central valleys July 31 to August 2, eastern states August 3. Warm wave will cross west of Rockies about 29, great central valleys 31, eastern states August 2. Cool wave will cross west of Rockies about August 1, great central valleys August 3, eastern states August 3.

This disturbance will not bring very high temperatures and very cool weather will follow it; otherwise no very important weather events are expected with this disturbance.

My next bulletin will give general forecasts of August crop weather and will, therefore, be of more than usual interest. August crop weather will determine the corn crop of 1906.

FORT CHIPPYAN.

Fort Chippywan, June 23.—Nothing of special interest has happened up here since the sending of the last bulletin of news two months ago. In fact up till Ascension Day your correspondent began to doubt whether there would be a chance of sending out news if any did occur, as the water was so low and such quantities of ice drifting and blocking up the channel that it was impossible to reach any main land. Still when a chance offered itself made use of and short journeys made partly by water and partly by land.

Food has been very scarce here, the Indians getting but few fish. Moose meat is about as scarce as turtle flesh. The R.N.W.M.P. are going to have fine barracks built here. Late Sgt. Field and Constable Wakefield have been busily superintending the loading of a large raft of square timber, cut 30 miles from here, which was brought down, after many delays and disappointments, by Mr. Colin Fraser's newly completed tug, Keewatin. The boat steamed along in grand style, but could not show much speed on account of low water. With plenty of sea room the Keewatin would prove a clipper and those wishing to keep abreast would have to keep steam up.

The potatoes were all sown Victoria Day, and hopes are entertained for good crops, but as the soil is very poor, being almost sand, the chances are against it.

Mr. Johnson, the engineer of the Grahame, Hudson's Bay company's steamer, has completed his arrangements, so that the big river steamer and tug are all ready for work. They look clean and ship shape.

Considerable excitement was caused on May 25 by the arrival of two seals belonging to Mr. Colin Fraser, laden with goods. They reported that the Hudson's Bay company boats would be here in about a week.

And great joy they did come safely June 7, so that the limitations of the commissariat are removed or, at any rate, are not nearly so strict.

The mosquitoes are frightful; snuffing flies are a necessity. There has been no rain except a very little on June 8.

There were quite a number of Indians waiting for Treaty day, Friday, 22. We have had many at the mission for medical treatment. Outsiders little know in what a deplorable condition they are in: syphilis, consumption and sore eyes are their principal scourges.

The steamer Grahame after great difficulty was launched and made her first trip this year to McMurray. The water was low and navigation difficult, but the boat accomplished the journey in safety, and also the return on Friday, 22. Among the several passengers who got out at Fort Chippywan was Bishop Reeve, who is visiting his diocese.

The Bishop preached both in the morning and evening at St. Paul's church, holy communion being administered at both services. There were two children christened in the afternoon, after which the bishop gave an address. The church was well filled at all services.

Bishop Reeve started for Fort Smith this morning, June 25, by canoe. The steamer Grahame has just got back from that place at 8.30 tonight, and expects to start early in the morning; therefore all mail must be aboard to-night.

Treaty was paid to over 600 Indians on Friday, the 22nd. All is going on quietly except that there are a few ice dances among them.

A difficult but very amusing bit of business is going on today. I refer to taking the census of the Indians. Most of them are ignorant as to how old they are, and it is difficult guessing. Their ancestry is also lost in obscurity. However, all difficulties are surmounted where there is a will, and if their teeth are no index other methods are in vogue. Their names, however, "Rat Fat" and "Big Adder" are certainly distinctive.

GREAT WEST LIFE ALRIGHT.

(Special to The Bulletin.)
Winnipeg, July 24.—The Royal Insurance commission opened an investigation here today into the affairs of the Great West Life Company. Nothing sensational developed in the methods of the organization in election of officers, distribution of profits or investment affairs. It is evidently being run in a fairly satisfactory manner. The salary of President Brock is $15,000 per annum. He maintains that no actual rebates are allowed by the company and the funds are safely invested in securities paying 7-12 per cent. Investigation will be continued tomorrow.

DROWNED NEAR KENORA.

(Special to The Bulletin.)
Kenora, July 25.—J. F. Banks, a cook employed by Stuart & Cameron on G.G.T.P. construction, was drowned today. The body was recovered shortly after he sank.

TROUBLE AMONG SETTLERS.

(Special to The Bulletin.)
Saskatoon, July 25.—On Monday night the Northwest Mounted Police in this city received a telegram from a settlement called the village of Bogdanowka, near Langham, informing them of a disturbance between a number of squatters of that district and homesteaders. The former are inclined to deprive the latter of their worldly possessions, and are endeavoring with the aid of firearms to induce the homesteaders to leave their homesteads.

The message received reads as follows: "Langham, July 23rd. To the Police Saskatoon. We are being driven away from our homesteads by squatters who are pointing guns and revolvers at us. They refuse to give us their names. We have papers from the Government to prove our claims, please come out immediately and investigate the matter. Michael Valkin, Bogdanowka Village."

Constable Bell has been instructed to leave for the village today where he will investigate.

BALL SCORES.

Winnipeg, July 25.—Winnipeg 11, Houghton 2, first game; Winnipeg 3, Houghton nil, second game; Duluth 4, Hancock 4; Lake Linden 2, Grand Forks nil; Calumet 5, Fargo 4.

ABDUCTED HIS OWN CHILD.

(Special to The Bulletin.)
Brandon, July 26.—S. Gamble of Winnipeg, was arrested today on a charge of abducting his own child, Donald Gamble, aged 3 years. It is said Gamble and his wife could not agree and after a wordy war yesterday Gamble left his home.

GRAND FORKS GOES OUT.

(Special to The Bulletin.)
Grand Forks, July 26.—Director M. Standish, announced tonight that after the game tomorrow between Lake Linden and Grand Forks, local players will be paid off and formally released, Grand Forks dropping out of the Northern-Copper country league.

CROPS SATISFACTORY.

(Special to The Bulletin.)
Winnipeg, July 26.—The weekly report of the C.P.R. shows the crop throughout Manitoba and Saskatchewan to be in magnificent condition. At three or four points there is red rust, but over one hundred stations send wholly satisfactory reports. A few points have suffered somewhat from lack of rain, others have had too much rain but normal conditions have prevailed in almost the entire farming country.

BOOTH KEEPERS FINED.

(Special to The Bulletin.)
Winnipeg, July 26.—The police magistrate held a busy session in police court when 26 booth-holders at the exhibition appeared and pleaded guilty to having sold intoxicating liquor on the exhibition grounds Sunday and Monday. The aggregate fines made a total of $4,000.

CONSTRUCTION STOPPED.

(Special to The Bulletin.)
Brandon, July 26.—Owing to friction between the Brandon council and the C.N.R. regarding the entry of the company into the city, W. J. Cowan, contractor in charge of the work on the C.N.R. line between Brandon and Regina has ordered by his employees to abandon work.

SEALED TENDERS addressed to the undersigned, and endorsed "Tender for Supplying Coal for the Dominion Buildings" will be received at this office until Thursday, August 16, 1906, inclusively, for the supply of Coal for the Public Buildings throughout the Dominion.

THE GILBRETH SYSTEM AND THE
COST-PLUS-A-FIXED-SUM CONTRACT
AND THEIR ADVANTAGES TO
ARCHITECTS AND ENGINEERS

In every building operation there are three parties, the owner, the architect or engineer, and the contractor. To get the best results in any construction work it is evident that the architect and contractor must co-operate to the fullest extent. Proper co-operation is impossible when an architect is forced to work with a contractor who skimps his building or who employs inferior materials. Moreover, under such conditions, the structure is bound to suffer and the architect is sure to come in for a big share of the blame. Unsatisfactory results like these occur with great frequency in work done on the lump-sum basis, because the lump-sum contractor, to save himself from loss, often resorts to makeshifts at the expense of the architect's reputation and the owner's pocket. In other words, the lump-sum contractor often works against the interests of architect and owner.

The cost-plus-a-fixed-sum contract by eliminating this division of interest, assures co-operation between contractor and architect. The cost-plus-a-fixed-sum contract fixes the contractor's profit at the start and thereby removes from him all temptation to do any but the most satisfactory work. His interest is thus made one with the architect's, since both are trying to produce the best results. Naturally the owner reaps the benefit of this unity of effort.

The Gilbreth System has been developed to utilize the cost-plus-a-fixed-sum contract to maximum advantage. It is a system of organized co-operation perfected by years of experience. It is a system under which red tape is eliminated, the maximum of result is obtained, and speed, economy and efficiency are made dependable quantities.

Under this system the architect finds that the co-operation assured by the cost-plus-a-fixed-sum contract extends throughout the entire work of construction. This is why the Gilbreth System and the cost-plus-a-fixed-sum contract appeal so powerfully to architects and engineers, and also why any architect or engineer who has worked with us once is pleased to work with us again.

We solicit an opportunity to explain our system in detail to architects and engineers particularly and to owners generally.

A HANDY MAP

Fire chief Davidson, with the assistance of the city engineer, has prepared a map of the city which will prove of great assistance, not only to the members of the city fire brigade, but to all concerned in the fire protection of the city. On the map is shown by red marks the position of each hydrant at present in use in the city. A double mark shows the hydrants with steamer attachments. The map is hung in the fire hall, and the fire men will soon have the location of the hydrants down by heart. But when the new fire alarm system is installed this will not be necessary, as when the alarm comes in, the indicator will show the number, and number will show the street, and a look at the map will show the hydrant nearest to the scene of the fire. The number of hydrants in the city with steamer attachment is 14, of which seven are on the main street.

WANTS JUDGING SCHOOL

Mr. Ernest E. Swift, who was one of the prizemen in the stock judging contest at the Edmonton fair, writes the following to the Bulletin. Mr. Swift is an enthusiastic stockman and is anxious that many others shall catch his spirit:

The Bulletin:

Will you please allow me through your paper to make a few suggestions to the stockmen of Northern Alberta.

It is my idea that all interested in pure bred stock should get together and secure a stock judging school during the coming winter. If we apply to the department of agriculture I think they will be willing to secure a competent stock judge for say, two weeks. How can we improve unless we know the good points, the type to select to build up a uniform herd.

All we want is a little training and then we will show the Manitoba and Calgary stockmen that the grains and grasses of the Edmonton district are of superior feeding value.

If we had an agricultural college like the Ontario boys we would not worry, so if we want to breed long intelligent and successful lines it is our duty to agitate for some such judging school as I suggest here. I would like to hear from other breeders in this regard.

GEORGIA MINSTRELS.

Two and a half hours of fun is promised on Monday evening when Richards & Pringle's Famous Georgia Minstrels will hold the boards. This claim to be the only company extant composed exclusively of genuine negroes. The performance is a novelty and differs almost entirely from those given by burnt cork Caucasians in the same role. The fun and music by the dusky Africans is of the spontaneous kind and it is claimed the performance is "Better than a circus."

Those who are prominent in the bill are the world-famous Clarence Powell, Jim Crosby, the Black Jester; Lester McDaniels, the Lone Star Comedian; Grant Cooper, the monologue artist; Happy Buregard, the singing comedian; Frank Kirk, the Broadway funny boy.

The principal solo acts are: Marsh Craig the Ellulibrat; Kirk & Cooper, Musical Photographers; "The Jolly Old Men," song and dance; the Toney Family, high class athletic wonders. The singers are selected with great care and headed by Robt. Logan, the lion bass; Chas. Benton, the silver-voiced tenor, and Robt. Williams, phenomenal baritone.

The big Opera Orchestra is under the direction of Wm. Nichols, while the big band is handled by Fred Simpson.

MANY IMMIGRANTS COMING

Business around the immigration hall has been a little livelier this week and Mr. Sutter and his assistants have been dealing out considerable information about the country to new comers.

"Yes, it's a fine country." That's what they all say, these new comers, and they mean it. Some of them are from the U.S. of A., but the greater number of those who have pulled up at the immigration building during the past few weeks are pilgrims from the mother country. But whether it's the man with the nasal twang or the cockney lad its always the same. "Yes, it's a fine country, and we have come to stay. Show us where we can get the best land, and we will hit the trail right now."

As Mr. Sutter said, the rush from across the border will not commence until next month. The harvest season is just commencing in the States, and as soon as the Americans get their crops off the land many will pull up stakes and hike for the Last West. This week five families came into the city from the old country, and after putting up at the immigration hall for a day or two to get their bearings, they pulled out farther west, where they will take up land. Several families also came from Washington and Montana, and have taken up land west of the city from the hills of California. It is now resting at the hall, only until such time as they can procure a house and settle in the city. They will in the fall take up land.

C. H. Dunn of Wahamun Lake has also located several land seekers this week. At the beginning of the week he took eleven prospectors out to the lake district and settled them on quarter sections of the best land. Today he is driving six more delighted newcomers out to see the land, and show them where they can settle and be happy for the rest of their lives. The men are only too anxious to get out on land as soon as possible and as fast as they come in they are loaded with information by Mr. Sutter and sent on their way rejoicing.

A new step in the campaign for advertising Edmonton district has also been taken by Mr. Sutter. During the past week he has been gathering together a collection of grasses which he intends sending as exhibits to the exhibition at Great Falls, Montana. He has splendid specimens of rye grass, brom grass, clover, A. lufas and others, and when the wheat is matured he will also send a sample of that grain. He is also securing specimens of the wild native grasses.

Western News

Regina Leader: Drury Lang, C. P. R. brakeman, of Moose Jaw, was brought into the Regina hospital yesterday seriously injured as the result of a fall from his train at McLean. His left arm was found to be badly injured as to necessitate amputation below the elbow, while his shoulder blade and two ribs were broken.

Winnipeg Free Press: Mr. Alex. Calder, an old gentleman living ten miles north of Wapella, wandered from his home between 4 and 5 o'clock Tuesday morning, July 10, and up to Thursday afternoon no trace of him can be found. Searching parties have been scouring the district continuously since that time but without success. The old gentleman has been ill for some time and was somewhat unbalanced in mind and it is thought in his wanderings he may have fallen into a slough and been drowned or become lost in the bush and died from exposure, as he wore only a pair of trousers, shirt and cap. A dog which followed him from home returned during the afternoon.

DICKSON & CO.
